

Top dog off to Harvard

---

Management

---

Melbourne law commerce graduate Mr Bill Lang has moved from selling gourmet hot dogs outside nightclubs to an MBA course at Harvard Business School in the US.

Mr Lang has won the Macquarie Hill Samuel Graduate Management Scholarship for 1989, which will help finance a Master of Business Administration course. He is a business analyst at McKinsey & Co in Melbourne and previously worked with Peat Marwick Mitchell & Co in London and Australia. While still at Melbourne University Mr Lang and two friends joined forces to sell gourmet hot dogs to people leaving bars and nightclubs.

The Macquarie Hill Samuel scholarship was initiated six years ago.

Mr Lang gets $US22,500 towards his two-year course.

- Barrie Dunstan

Business Financial Review,
Friday July 14, 1989

